Bishop Kearney's lacrosse team will rely on the leadership and scoring of such players as senior attacker Jon Hand (center), the team's top scorer last season, if they are to return to the sectionals. Last year, the Kings lost to Penn Yan, 7-5, in the Class B title game.

BK, McQuaid lacrosse aim at improving

ROCHESTER — If numbers are any indication, the lacrosse programs at Bishop Kearney and McQuaid Jesuit high schools should be rousing successes this spring.

Sixty-five players went out for the varsity and jayvee teams at Kearney, while 56 tried out at McQuaid.

Both teams will also have new faces at head coach. Tom Coons, who played at Nazareth College after starring at Rush-Henrietta High School, replaces Jim Burns at Kearney.

The new coach at McQuaid Jesuit is Tony Levin. After playing on a sectional champion at Rush-Henrietta Sperry, Levin moved on to Cortland State. An assistant lacrosse coach at Cardinal Mooney last spring, Levin takes over for former Mc-

Quaid coach Mike Schepis.

Coons inherits a Kearney team that finished 9-8 last season after losing to Penn Yan in the Class B sectional playoffs. The Kings qualified for the sectionals for the first time ever last year, and Coons is looking forward to guiding them to the post-season again.

Kearney lost several key players to graduation, including goalie Mark Hall, defenseman Craig Chodak, and the team's second-leading scorer, Steve (Beaver) Smith. The ex-Kearney midfielder recorded 40 goals and 22 assists last year.

The team's leading scorer last spring, attacker Jon Hand (35 goals, 35 assists during the regular season), will be back for his senior season. Joining him at attack will be Jim Ingrick (15 goals) and Greg Phillips.

John Werner — who saw extensive action in goal last season — will return to the crease this year. He will play behind a defensive unit Coons believes may be the team's strong point.

Offensively, Coons will use a "run-and-gun" style similar to the one he played at Nazareth College. The Kings' coach said the new offense should generate more goals this season, and may surprise some teams that are used to the more traditional offense displayed by Kearney in previous years.

Coons said the new offense has shown promise in pre-season scrimmages against Webster and Rush Henrietta, "but it takes games before you can tell what kind of team you'll have."

SPORT SHORTS

McFadden, Marsteiner named to all-star squad

GENEVA — Finger Lakes West League coaches recently selected DeSales Robert McFadden (first team) and Ed Marsteiner (third team) as league all-stars.

McFadden, a 6-6 junior center, was named to the first team for the second consecutive year. He led the Saints in scoring with a 17.6 points-per-game average, and an average of 13 rebounds per game.

Marsteiner, a 6-0 junior, averaged 9.5 points per game in league competition, and led DeSales in three-pointers (19).

The Saints finished the season with a 16-6 record, falling in the Section 5 Class D semifinals to Prattsburg (which later lost in the title game to Whitesville).

McFadden, who led DeSales to the title in 1989 when he was named the tourney's most valuable player, played in both of the Saints' post-season games this past season despite two broken fingers.

Aquinas schedules girls' summer basketball camp

ROCHESTER — Aquinas Institute will host a basketball camp for seventh- to 12th-grade girls from July 16-27.

The camp will take place in the school gym, 1127 Dewey Ave. from 12:30-3 p.m. each day. The sessions will be conducted by Rochester-area basketball coaches and players.

The camp will include work on individual as well as team offensive and defensive skills. Each participant will receive a written evaluation at the end of the camp. In addition, individual and team awards will be presented.

Cost is $85 per person, which includes a shirt and a free basketball. Call 716/254-2020 for information.

Donahue, Boncaro earn all-star team recognition

DeSales girls' basketball standouts Jeneane Donahue and Danielle Boncaro were named second-team all-stars from the Finger Lakes West this season.

Donahue, a senior, and Boncaro, a junior, led the Saints to an 11-11 record this past season. DeSales lost in the second round of the Class D sectionals to eventual-champion Whitesville.
