They both made presentations to their classmates the following week.

'Joshua' author to speak

GREECE — Father Joseph Girzone, noted author of Joshua and Joshua and the Children, will speak on "A new sense of Jesus" at St. John the Evangelist Church on Monday, Sept. 17, at 7 p.m.

Following retirement from ministry as a diocesan priest in Albany, Father Girzone began a new career as a writer and philosopher. In addition to his Joshua books, the priest has written Kara, the Lonely Falcon, Who Will Teach Me?, and Gloria, A Diary of a Teenage Girl.

Father Girzone gives lectures and conducts retreats throughout the United States. He has given talks to Hindu and Jewish groups as well as such Christian groups as Baptists, Methodists, Evangelicals and Catholics. His following consists of believers from all religions.

Father Girzone's talk is sponsored by St. John the Evangelist Men's Club and Women's Guild. After his talk, he will be available for autographs, and his books and tapes will be for sale.

Parish marks anniversary of patron saint's nativity

SCIPIO CENTER — St. Bernard's Parish celebrated the 900th anniversary of the birth of St. Bernard with a Mass and coffee hour on Sunday, Aug. 19.

At the event, held in conjunction with celebrations across the United States and France, a booklet prepared by parishioner Grace Kanalley was distributed. The booklet contained information about the life of St. Bernard, a history of St. Bernard's Church, and an article about the statue of St. Bernard. The statue is now located in St. Bernard's Cemetery.

The statue, decorated with wild flowers as part of the celebration, once stood in front of St. Bernard's Seminary in Rochester. The statue was given to the parish — the only church in the Rochester diocese named after the saint — when the seminary closed.
