

Application materials for 1992 CHD grants now available from the Rochester diocese

ROCHESTER — The Diocese of Rochester is now offering application materials for 1992 Campaign for Human Development national grants.

Projects, which have to meet certain CHD guidelines, must be controlled by groups with at least 50 percent involuntarily low-income representation.

The campaign especially seeks projects that address basic causes of poverty by affecting changes in laws, policies or institutions; and projects designed to develop economic strength and political power within low-income communities.

Grant requests are typically more than $10,000; the average national grant is $28,800.

The campaign was established in 1970 by the U.S. bishops as an education-action program to combat domestic poverty.

CHD funds projects that enable people of all races, creeds, geographical regions and backgrounds to work together for long-range solutions to poverty in the critical areas of social and economical development, housing, health, legal aid, education and communication. CHD makes grants to groups in which those who benefit from the project have the dominant voice in planning, implementation, and policy-making for the project.

All groups interested in applying to the Campaign for Human Development are required to submit a pre-application by Nov. 1, 1991. Projects that meet the minimum criteria and guidelines will be encouraged to submit a full application by Jan. 31, 1992.

For pre-application forms and criteria information, please contact: Kevin Hennessey, Finger Lakes Office of Social Ministry, 110 Exchange St., Geneva, N.Y. 14456 (or call 315/789-2686); Anita Maruggi, Justice and Peace Department, Catholic Family Center, 50 Chestnut Plaza, Rochester, N.Y. 14604 (716/546-7220); or Kathy Dubel, Southern Tier Office of Social Ministry, 160 High St., Elmira, N.Y. 14901 (607/734-9784).
