

Boy Scout troop selling Christmas trees at lot

ROCHESTER — Boy Scout Troop 19, Tay House, has begun its 41st annual Christmas tree sale.

The troop's tree lot is located at the corner of Culver Road and University Avenue. The scouts will be selling trees seven days a week, from 9 a.m. until late in the evening.

Ornament sale will benefit anti-hunger project abroad

PITTSFORD — The World Hunger Task Force of St. Louis Church, 60 S. Main St., will hold its 10th annual Christmas Ornament Sale following all Masses this weekend, Dec. 7-8.

Proceeds from the sale will help fund the completion of a water pipe line in Kabemet, Kenya. The task force has supported the project for the last 10 years.

This year's ornaments, which can be purchased for $5 each, depict a kneeling angel in white porcelain and a white porcelain disc with seasonal decorations. Both ornaments come with red ribbons, a gold gift box and gift card.

The ornaments were created by students at the School of the Holy Childhood, a non-denominational, not-for-profit agency dedicated to the education, training and employment of mentally handicapped children and adults.

To place an order for an ornament at any time, call Marcia Mendola at 716/381-6872 or 586-3771.

Christmas play on tap at St. Anne's

Gio Napoleone puts the finishing touches on Tiffany Cutt for her role in the Christmas Stranger.

Barbara Zuber is one of the many carolers who perform during and between the one-act plays, which both focus on the spirit of Christmas.

Lorrie Jones plays the prudish suburban matriarch in Christmas in Suburbia.

Former Penfield pastor unanimously elected to head association

NEW YORK — Father James M. Moynihan, a former chancellor of the Rochester diocese, has been elected to the post of associate secretary general of the Catholic Near East Welfare Association.

CNEWA's board of trustees unanimously elected Father Moynihan during its Nov. 12 annual meeting in Washington, D.C. He has been serving as the agency's acting associate secretary general since March, 1991.

To accept the position, Father Moynihan left the pastorate of St. Joseph's Parish, Penfield, which he had served since 1976. Previously he had been a jail and hospital chaplain in the mid-1970s; diocesan chancellor from 1967-1974; secretary to Bishop James E. Kearney from 1963-67; and as assistant pastor of Our Lady of Mount Carmel in Rochester from 1961-63.

Father Moynihan was ordained in Rome in 1959, and received his doctorate in canon law from the Gregorian University in Rome in 1961.

Catholic Near East, an international papal agency founded in 1926, serves the people and churches of the Middle East, India, Ethiopia and Eastern Europe. In 1991, the association provided more than $15 million in emergency relief and grants to aid children.

Archbishop Sheen series available on free television

ROCHESTER — TV 38 (WAW) — a non-cable television station available to Rochester-area residents — has begun weekly broadcasts of Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen's "Life is Worth Living" program.

The station will air 31 of Bishop

Sheen's half-hour programs each Tuesday at 8 p.m. — the same broadcast slot occupied by the show when it was first broadcast in the 1950s.

Archbishop Sheen was bishop of Rochester from 1966-69. During the 1950s, his program had an estimated viewing audience of 30 million viewers. The program regularly competed for the top rating in its time slot.
