McMail leads ND

Elmira Notre Dame has scored at least eight runs in five of its seven games this year. And when you add a pitcher like Bobbie Jo McMail, you've come up with an unbeatable combination.

McMail has struck out 70 batters in six games, winning all of them. She also carries a lofty .714 batting average.

The Crusaders' only loss was a 6-4 decision to visiting Elmira Free Academy on April 14. McMail missed that game due to an arm injury. However, third-year Coach Dave Potter was encouraged by ND's performance against its tough Sullivan Trail Conference opponent.

"This really built up our confidence because we did it without Bobbie Jo. We played a beautiful defensive game; everybody felt like we won it," remarked Potter.

Saints still optimistic

If the offense comes around, Geneva DeSales will be a tough opponent in the Finger Lakes League's West Division. DeSales has scored only eight runs in its first three games — including the most recent contest, an 8-3 loss at Red Jacket on April 14 — but the Saints have also allowed an average of just six runs during that stretch.

"Defensively we're pretty good, but we haven't hit the ball yet," said third-year coach Corky DeYulio. "I'm still expecting us to be in the top of the league. We have the potential to be the best team we've ever had at this school."

Three players who missed last season because of injuries are also making vital contributions: junior outfielder Shannon Grifa, junior pitcher Krista DeVaney and senior center fielder Sarah Peters.

Remaining Saints are sophomore outfielders Gillian Barnard and Lindsay Higgins, junior infielder Alicia DeVaney (Krista's cousin), senior infielder/outfielder Peggy Mahoney and junior outfielder Christie Prindle.
