

Church secretaries slate daylong seminar in Endicott

ENDICOTT — A seminar for church secretaries is scheduled for Wednesday, June 10, at the Central United Methodist Church, 17 Nanticoke Ave.

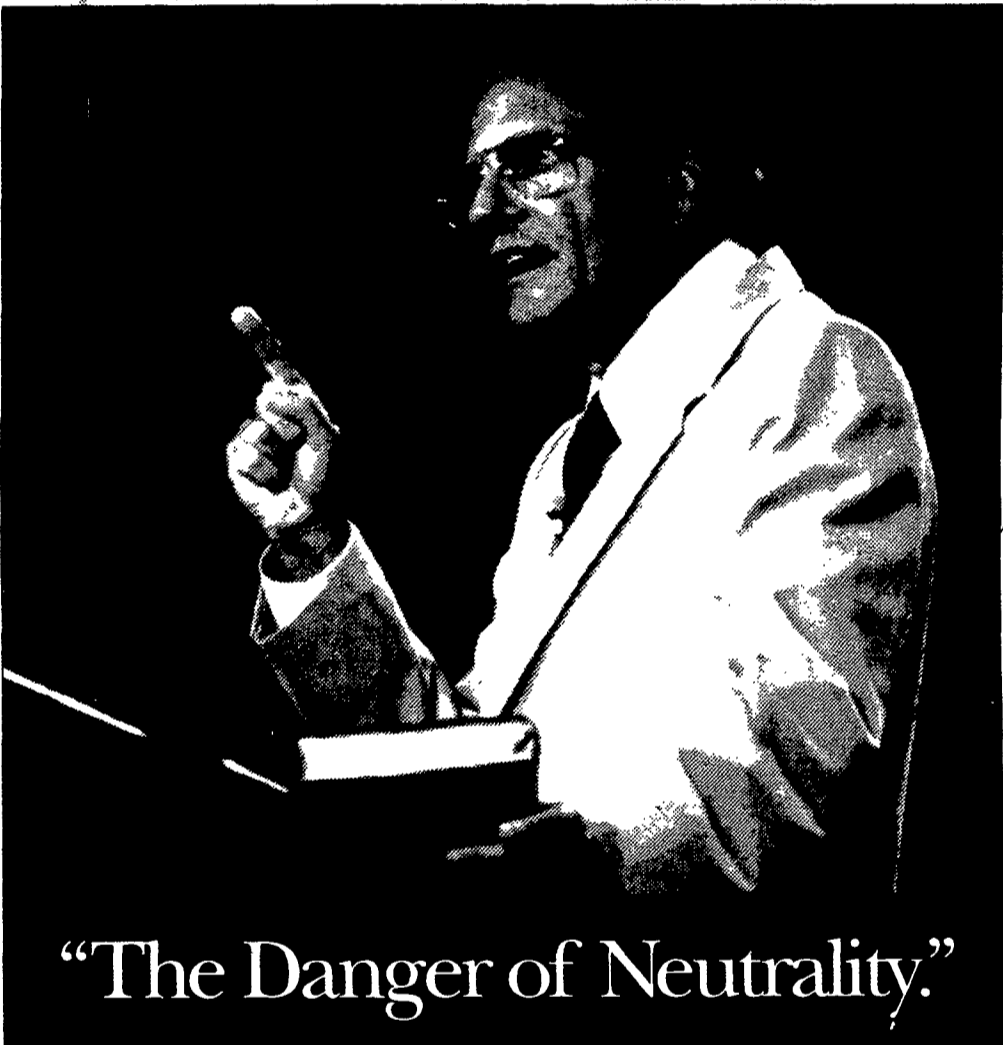

The seminar will run from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and is open to church secretaries from all denominations. Topics to be covered include "Church Copyright Laws and You," "Church Security," "Stress on the Church Secretary," and "Tell and Share" — a small-group discussion session.

Cost is $25. This fee will cover all registration materials, luncheon and refreshments. Registrations should be sent to Marge Frederick, Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, 701 W. Main St., Endicott, N.Y. 13760.

For information, call Frederick at 607/748-7417.

Doug and Gary to perform benefit for housing site

PITTSFORD — Fresh off a recent performance at the White House, the musical group Doug and Gary will perform two benefit concerts at noon and 4 p.m. on Sunday, May 31, at the Nazareth Arts Center, 4245 East Ave.

The singing duo has attracted national attention for entertaining children of pre-school and elementary ages. Doug and Gary's growing popularity led President Bush and his wife Barbara to request their presence for an Easter egg roll last March.

The show's proceeds will benefit the Sisters of Mercy's Catherine McAuley Housing Project. Located on St. Paul Boulevard in Rochester, the project seeks to refurbish a five-unit apartment building to house poor single mothers and their children.

Tickets are $4 for children under 12, and $6 for all others. They may be obtained by calling 716/288-4956 or 872-9848.

Bishop Clark to take part in tour of child care center

GENEVA — Bishop Matthew H. Clark is scheduled to participate in a tour of the Geneva Agricultural Child Care Center at 4156 W. Lake Road, on Friday, May 29, at 10:30 a.m.

The bishop's tour with parish representatives from the Finger Lake region is part of the diocesan Campaign for Children, an advocacy effort during May to address the degree of childhood poverty in the United States.

The campaign's other components include educational activities in parishes and a diocesan-wide "Offering of Letters" to legislators in support of programs intended to alleviate childhood hunger and poverty, including Head Start, WIC — the Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children — and Job Corps.

The child care center the group will tour is a site for two federal programs for children, WIC and Head Start.

Commenting on the campaign, Bishop Clark noted, "This advocacy effort is one response to the call for the Catholic Church in the United States to put its broad experience, teaching and values to work in shaping a nation and a world more respectful of the lives and dignity of children.

"The needs of all children," Bishop Clark added, "especially unborn children and poor children, must take first place in the values and vision that guide our nation."

For tour information, contact Giovina Carosco, director of the Finger Lakes Office of Social Ministry, at 315/789-2686.
