

Noted priest slated to visit Irondequoit

IRONDEQUOIT — Father Edward McDonough, CSSR, will lead a healing service at Christ the King Parish, 445 Kings Hwy. S., on Monday, Jan. 18, at 7:30 p.m.

According to a press release on the event, the service will be para-liturgical, emphasizing the power of united prayer for emotional, spiritual and physical healing of the community.

Father McDonough heads the Healing and Restoration Ministry, based in Watertown, Mass. The priest oversees retreats, seminars and teaching seminars on healing and healing services for U.S. and foreign priests. His ministry also sponsors radio programs throughout New England, Iowa and the New York City area. His broadcasts on television station WOR, based in New Jersey, can be seen in 24 states.

Father McDonough's TV programs can be seen weekly on "The Inspirational Network," which reaches approximately 1,200 cities. He also can be seen on television in such areas as Boston; Brooklyn; Detroit; Long Island; Vallejo, Calif.; Seattle, Wash.; and the Virgin Islands.

The priest has also worked with diocesan priests in other countries, including Canada, England and Italy.

The Watertown ministry's prayer line (617/924-2340) is staffed by volunteers seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Callers are remembered in nightly prayer meetings and in Father McDonough's healing services.

For information on the healing service, call Marie (before 4 p.m.) at 716/266-2897, or Loretta at 467-5642 (after 10 a.m.)

Malcolm X's widow to deliver talk

ROCHESTER — Dr. Betty Shabazz, the widow of Malcolm X, will speak at Nazareth College of Rochester, 4245 East Ave., on Monday, Jan. 18, at 7 p.m. in the Arts Center's auditorium.

The lecture is free and open to the public. Seating is limited, however, and those wishing to attend must obtain a general admission ticket at the Arts Center Box Office, open weekdays from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Sponsored by the college's Office of Multicultural Affairs, Shabazz's speech will conclude a series of events marking Martin Luther King Jr. Day.

Director of communications and public relations at Medgar Evers College of the City University of New York, Shabazz assumed the task of carrying on her husband's work after his murder and at the same time raised their six children.

Since receiving her doctorate in education from the University of Massachusetts, she has conducted research in Africa, the Caribbean and Europe on such topics as the sociological and economic conditions of minorities. She has been published in The Search: The Scholastic Black Literature Series.

In addition to holding positions in public and private organizations, Shabazz is active on commissions and task forces at all levels of government. She is a former U.S. presidential appointee to the American Revolutionary Bicentennial Administration Advisory Council.

Shabazz will take time to answer questions following her speech. Prior to the lecture, she will sign books in the Arts Center's lobby from 5:45 to 6:30 p.m. Publications will be for sale in the center.

For information, contact Gaynelle Wethers at 716/586-2525, ext. 326.

Events planned to observe King holiday

ROCHESTER — The following organizations have notified the Catholic Courier of events to celebrate Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday on Jan. 18.

• Colgate Rochester Divinity School/Bexley Hall/Crozer Theological Seminary, 1100 S. Goodman St., will host the Eighth Annual King Day Lecture on Friday, Jan. 15, at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium. King was an alumnus of Colgate Rochester Divinity School.

Churches, groups set to honor slain activist

Dr. Cheryl J. Sanders, associate professor of Christian Ethics at Howard University's School of Divinity in Washington, D.C., will speak on "The Development of Ethical Leadership from Black Church Traditions."

Sanders has lectured extensively on such topics as "Moral Self Criticism in Afro-American Religion and Politics" and "Christian Womanism." Admission is free and open to the public.

• Between 500 and 600 fourth-grade students will descend on the University of Rochester Jan. 15 to participate in an all-day program emphasizing equality, non-violent conflict resolution and appreciation of diversity. Youngsters from various Rochester City Schools will be paired with student counterparts from Greece and Penfield schools.

Two students from each school will lead the Pledge of Allegiance in Strong Auditorium from 10-10:45 a.m. The Black Seeds of School 4 will perform "Getting to Know You." Students will also tell what the slain civil rights leader's message means to them. The program will conclude with the students shaking hands and exchanging hugs.

A variety of classroom activities is slated from 11 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., and the program will close with a performance by Gospel Unique at 12:30 p.m.

• On Sunday, Jan. 17, from 5-7 p.m., St. Bridget's Church, 175 St. Bridget's Drive, will present its Sixth Annual Martin Luther King Scholarship Program. Three early recognition awards for the ninth grade and one senior scholarship will be presented during the program. St. Bridget's choir will perform, and refreshments will be available after the presentation. Admission is free, but donations will be accepted to fund the scholarship.

For information, call Rose Barrows at 716/454-4236.

• Temple B'rith Kodesh, 2131 Elmwood Ave., will present the Gospel Songfest on Jan. 17 at 6 p.m. The event's theme is "Let the People Sing Praise Unto the Lord, Hallelujah!" Julius Dicks, minister of music at the United Methodist Church of the Resurrection, will serve as guest conductor for a number of church choirs and a community Mass choir.

Admission is free and open to the public.

• Campus Ministry at Nazareth College of Rochester, 4245 East Ave., will present a memorial service in honor of Dr. King in the Schults Center on Monday, Jan. 18, at 2:15 p.m. The service's theme will be "Building a Multi-cultural Community: Each One Teach One."

Nazareth College is also sponsoring a lecture by Dr. Betty Shabazz, the widow of Malcolm X (see related story).

For information on both Nazareth events, call Gaynelle Wethers at 716/586-2525, ext. 326.
