

NEWCOMERS' GUIDE

Colleges

unique program begun by the Geneseo State Newman group. Known as the Service Project, this activity involves close to 60 students who have devoted their entire spring break this week to repairing homes in Tioga County. Along with its Southern Tier work, the Newman community performs similar service closer to campus with Livingston County Rural Outreach.

To honor these extensive volunteer efforts, the Geneseo State students were presented with a President's Outstanding Achievement Award by the college this past fall.

Regardless of what level of involvement a student chooses in his or her campus ministry, Kreher promises that a positive experience awaits.

"You feel at ease. You can just be yourself," he said.

Church requests participants for storytelling musical

VICTOR — A variety of performers and volunteers are needed for the storytelling musical, "Tales of Wonder," which will be presented at 7 p.m. on Sunday, April 4, at St. Patrick's Church, 115 Maple Ave.

The performance's organizers are seeking dancers — ages 10 or older — to fill solo and group dance parts. Groups of children are also needed to carry or hold banners, ribbons and simple props for the musical. In addition, volunteers are needed to help make banners.

For information, or to find out about participating in the performance, call Sister Mary Kay at 716/924-7111 or Kathy English at 924-9892.

To help with making the banners, contact Anne Giambrone at 924-7978.

Religious artist to lead program at Mercy Prayer Center

ROCHESTER — Sister Doris Klein, CSA, will be the guest speaker at the Mercy Prayer Center, 65 Highland Ave., for a special presentation titled, "Touching the Mystery of God: Integrating, Healing, Healthy Ways" at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 3.

An established lecturer and watercolorist, Sister Klein speaks of the life-giving power of nature, people and places. Colored with humor, her reflections and insights envision a way to live in total harmony. She currently serves in full-time ministry as an artist in Milwaukee, and her background includes a bachelor of arts in art education and a master of science in secondary education.

For information, call Judy Vaeth at 716/473-6893.
