Bills tight end, wife to appear

ROCHESTER — Buffalo Bills tight end Pete Metzelaars and his wife, Barbara, have scheduled area appearances over the next two weekends.

Pete Metzelaars will serve as honorary chairman for the third annual "Everybuddy's Walkin' and Rollin'" celebration this coming Sunday, Oct. 17. The 10-kilometer walk will take place beginning at 9 a.m. at the Al Sigl Center's Elmwood Campus, 1000 Elmwood Ave.

This walk will raise funds for disabled children and adults served by the Al Sigl Center and Easter Seal Society. To register, call 716/442-4100 or 264-9550.

Barbara Metzelaars will be a guest speaker the following Sunday, Oct. 24, at the Mapledale Party House, 1020 Maple St. The banquet, titled "Fall in for Life," will include a number of pro-life activities beginning at 2 p.m.

Barbara and Pete Metzelaars make frequent appearances on behalf of pro-life causes. Barbara, who once had an abortion, speaks about how she now regrets that decision. She now attempts to inform pregnant women about the help available to them.

Joining Barbara Metzelaars at the Oct. 24 event will be Monsignor James Lisante, a priest, author and television host from Long Island. He has counseled thousands of pregnant women in his role as director of Family Life for the Rockville Centre diocese.

Tickets for this event are $12 each. Call the Rochester Area Right to Life at 716/621-4690 for details.

Brockport to host games for physically challenged

BROCKPORT — The Western Region New York State Parks Games for the Physically Challenged will take place Friday and Saturday, Oct. 15-16, at State University of New York College at Brockport.

More than 300 physically challenged athletes are expected to participate in the event.

Serving as keynote speaker will be Bill Demby, who lost both of his legs from the knee down during military duty in Vietnam. Despite his handicap, Demby, a native of Mitchellville, Md., competes as a wheelchair athlete in marathons and 10-kilometer races. He also holds national amputee track-and-field records in the shot put, discus and javelin events.

For details about the Games for the Physically Challenged, call Pam Maryjanowski at 716/395-5620.

Tough schedule suits Mercy tennis

By Mike Latona
Staff writer

You couldn't tell from its 6-6 record. But, in a certain sense, the Our Lady of Mercy girls' tennis team is in a league of its own.

Due to number shortages in the Private-Parochial League, Mercy's varsity competes only against Bishop Kearney in league play. The Monarchs have already won the league title by virtue of their two wins over BK.

In its non-league schedule, Mercy takes on some of the finest competition available in Section 5.

"We always look for the toughest teams," acknowledged Coach Barb Hanna.

Sue Ciccone, only an eighth-grader, has posted an 8-4 record at first singles. Meanwhile, seniors Lynne Keogh and Jen Agustin have gone 9-3 at first doubles.

Senior Caitlin Reilly plays at second singles, with third singles being split between sophomores Beth Rogers and Jen Regan. Finally, junior Karen Housler and senior Erin Fagan represent the Monarchs at second doubles.

"We have a solid team," Hanna commented. "All the players have taken quite a few lessons and clinics."

Kearney goes 6-4

Bishop Kearney's veteran lineup features senior Adrianna Wirlo at first singles, senior Carla Valentini at second singles and junior Christine Zawadecki at third singles.

The senior duo of Catherine McMahon and Susan Stables occupies first doubles. Senior Judianne Slis is at second doubles, with two other seniors, Pam Blake and Parí Dinger, alternating as Slis's partner.

The Kings have achieved a 6-4 record on their very full schedule.

"We play a lot out of the league. We will play almost anyone we can get a match with," remarked Sister Juanita Hall, SSND, who serves as BK's head coach.

AQ overcomes shortage

Aquinas Institute has managed a 3-3 record despite forfeiting at least one individual match every time out. The Little Irish roster comprises only five players, whereas seven are needed for a full team.

Junior Liz Johnston plays at first singles, where she's gone undefeated in six matches.

"She's just able to run everything down. She makes the other person make a mistake," commented Coach Chuck Zeitvogel.

Other singles players are freshman Michelle Tumminelli at the second position, and junior Lia Kunz in the third slot. The first doubles duo is senior Kelli O'Connor and junior Shannon Maddicks.

Youth at Nazareth

Nazareth Academy is limited to six players, only one of whom is older than a sophomore. Because of the team's youth, it has competed as both a varsity and JV squad. The Lasers are 0-2 in varsity matches.

"Basically, you focus on how they're going to improve each match. And they have improved," said Coach Carol Potocki.

Eighth-grader Alex Zarowny leads the way at first singles, and sophomore Melissa Heisley plays second singles.

First doubles consists of senior Catie Camille and sophomore Erika McGuire, while second doubles fea-

Michelle Tumminelli of Aquinas takes aim during a match against Our Lady of Mercy at Maplewood Park Oct. 5. Tumminelli won both sets 6-3, 6-3.

ND looks ahead

In the Southern Tier, Elmira Notre Dame's roster is full, albeit extremely inexperienced. The Crusaders were saddled with an 0-9 record through the end of last week.

"We'll be all right in a couple of years," said Coach D.J. McLaughlin. "But my six doubles players, I had to teach them the rules."

First singles is played by senior Nhung Bui, with junior Beth Mingos at second singles, senior Kate Huddle at third singles and junior Aarathi Deshmukh at fourth singles.

Freshman Katrina Buttleman and sophomore Kathy Laux team up at first doubles. They're followed by freshman Katie Murphy and eighth-grader Andrea Sinko at second doubles, and freshmen Megan Schnippert and Angela Dozack at third doubles.

Notre Dame competes in Section 4, which — unlike Section 5's three-singles, two-doubles matches — features an additional singles and doubles slot.
