Saints swing to 2nd-place finish

By Mike Latona Staff writer

For many high-school leagues around the state, the golf season is traditionally held in springtime and girls' swimming is conducted during winter months.

On the other hand, three diocesan squads – the Geneva DeSales and Elmira Notre Dame golfers, and Our Lady of Mercy's swimmers – are thrust into competition as soon as the school year begins.

DeSales golf is in the first year of switching from a spring to autumn schedule. Apparently, fallen leaves in the fairway suit the Saints: they posted a 6-2 record in Finger Lakes West competition this season to finish in second place. Their overall mark was 6-6.

DeSales' most consistent golfer was junior Sarah Walters, a transfer from Union Springs. Not only was she the Saints' only female, but she was also their best player. This was accomplished even though she played from the white tees, the same distance as the boys.

"She's got a good all-around game. She hits the ball beautifully," remarked Coach Dick Shipley.

Walters fired a 40, her year's best ninehole total, to gain medalist honors in leading DeSales to a 232-235 victory over Romulus. The season-ending match was played last Tuesday, Oct. 11, at Seneca Falls Country Club.

Another top finisher for the Saints has been Dan Osborne, a junior. Rounding out the squad are juniors Sean O'-Donnell, John Hannan, Chris Petrosino and Justin Toner; and freshmen David Peters, Aaron Petrosino and Wylie Crisanti.

Elmira Notre Dame recorded a 2-8 record this fall in the challenging Sullivan Trail Conference. However, Coach A.J. Montanarella is looking forward to the Section 4 Class D tournament in May of 1995, when the Saints will compete against schools with similar enrollments.

"I think we've got a pretty decent chance in sectionals. We might surprise somebody," said Montanarella.

Freshman Tim Murray led the Crusaders in 1994 with a 42.9 stroke average. Other ND players were juniors Jason Peck, Steve Janeski and Rob McNamara; sophomore Joe Maio; freshmen Andy Agan, Dan Cain, Jesse Peck, Eric Williams and Jason Miccio; and eighthgrader Andy Friends.

hoping to make a strong impact at sectional time. The Monarchs will compete in the Section 5 Class B meet on Nov. 11 at the University of Rochester.

"Our goal is to place someone in the finals in each event," said Coach Todd Yunker, whose team had posted a 2-5 dual-meet record through last week. The Monarchs won 108-78 over host Batavia on Oct. 13 before losing 110-76 at Spencerport on Oct. 15.

One of Mercy's top events is the 200yard medley relay which features freshman Christina Brasser, junior Michelle Moosbrugger, sophomore Jennifer Moffett and freshman Cassie Ingersoll. Individual events for these swimmers include Brasser in the 50 free, 100 free and 100 backstroke; Moosbrugger in the 50 free, 100 free and 100 breaststroke; Moffett in the 100 butterfly; and Ingersoll in the 200 individual medley.

Distance events are performed by Kim Cupini, an eighth-grader. She won the 200 and 500 against Batavia, while Brasser was a double winner that day in the 50 free and 100 back.

Other notable Monarchs are sophomore Emmie Ingersoll in the IM; sophomore Gina DeBergalis in diving; and junior Jennifer Maxwell in the 500 free.

• Three football players at Catholic high schools in the diocese were named among the top players in the Eastern Region by Blue Chip Illustrated magazine, a publication of the National College Recruiting Association.

James Miner, a running back at Aquinas Institute; Israel Sak, an offensive lineman for Aquinas; and Joel Stephens, a running back and defensive back for Elmira Notre Dame; were all recognized.

• Several Bishop Kearney High School players attended the Shamrock Basketball Camp held in August at the American International College in Springfield, Mass.

Other speakers included Rene Ingoglia, a former BK football star who now plays running back for the University of Massachusetts; and BK assistant athletic director Brother Paul Hannon.

Elmira Notre Dame girls clinch league, remain unbeaten

By Mike Latona Staff writer

Even with a league title in the bag, Elmira Notre Dame had no plans to relax as the regular season wound down.

The next goal: preserving that goose egg in the loss column.

^aWe've never gone undefeated in a season," explained ND Coach Steve Weber, whose girls' soccer team clinched the Sullivan Trail Conference championship with a 3-1 home win over Elmira Free Academy last Wednesday, Oct. 12.

Notre Dame improved its record to 8-0 in STC play and 14-0-1 overall. The Crusaders will likely be the No. 1 seed when they begin defense of their Section 4 Class C championship next week.

Lindsay West gave ND a 1-0 lead over EFA when she converted a corner kick from Shelly Fagan with 4:00 remaining in the first half. Fagan made it 2-0 on a penalty kick 10:00 into the second half. Jen Keefe got the Blue Devils' only goal with 23:00 left in the game, but Jenny Spaziani gave the Crusaders some insurance on a breakaway just two minutes later. Fagan figured in that goal as well, getting the assist.

"Defensively, they've really improved a lot this season. We've never given up more than one goal in a game," Weber commented. "And offensively, the passing has gotten better. We've gotten more assists than in past years."
