YOUTH FEATURE

Extra Credit!

Six recent Elmira Notre Dame High School graduates participated in a service project at Nazareth Farm in West Virginia over Easter break. The ND group included Ryan Delaney, Christie Garwood, Heather Hinekley, Matt Huffman, Jane Kroouze and Kevin Sullivan. They helped repair homes for impoverished families in the Charleston area.

Alyssa Stephany, a recent Our Lady of Mercy High School graduate, was selected this year's May Queen. Alyssa led her "May Court" in annual May Day ceremonies held May 26 at Mercy to honor the Blessed Mother. Alyssa was also named the 1995 New York State Junior Miss this past spring and competed in the national Junior Miss pageant in June.

Other May Court members: seniors Erica Huver, Kathryn Belgiorio, Andrea Bertucci, Ann Ognibene, Julie Schneider, Teresa Hartman, Karen Carpino, Rebekka Beecher and Aida Williams; and juniors Anne Kidera, Patricia Thompson, Colleen Doyle, Heidi Liebert, Julianne Parker and Mary Ellen Dzakovic.

McQuaid Jesuit High School's speech and debate team excelled at the state tournament held in April. Leading McQ were Paul Theruparampil, finalist Student Congress; Sourabh Raychaudhuri, quarterfinalist, Declamation; John Morrison, fifth place, Lincoln Douglas Intermediate Debate; and William Whalen, semifinalist, Student Congress.

Benjamin O'Connor, a senior-to-be at McQuaid, was chosen to participate in a four-week summer program at California Institute of Technology. Benjamin was one of 40 students chosen from a pool of more than 400 applicants nationwide. The program features hands-on engineering and science, and is paid for by the college.

The Bishop Kearney band earned first place in a competition sponsored by WKLFM 98.9 Radio.

BK's version of "Tequila" won a contest of "classic oldies" tunes submitted by Rochester-area high school bands.

Kearney sophomore Erik Mayer has been inducted into the town of Henrietta's Youth Hall of Fame for his exceptional community contributions.

Five Kearney sophomores excelled in a Catholic Daughters of America literary competition.

Yurij Pawluk and Dan Tytler placed first and second, respectively, in the Essay Division. In addition, Joan Blinn, Charles Nersinger and Brad Closser swept the top three spots in the Poetry Division.

Desiree Whitehead, a senior-to-be at Kearney, was a "Not Me, Not Now" teen leader for the spring of 1995.

Desiree's duties were to work with fifth- and sixth-grade students, instructing them on the value of chastity.

Aquinas Institute took three awards at the High School Drama Festival held April 26 in Cortland.

Aquinas won for Outstanding Musical Performance in the Musical Numbers division. AQ also took honorable mention for One-Act Plays while junior Amy Ritzenthaler gained honorable mention for her individual performance in One-Act Plays.
