Christ's death, rising relived in sacraments

By Rob Cullivan
Staff writer

Holy Week and Easter Sunday offer Catholics a yearly opportunity to reflect on the passion, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

But the insights gained from reflection on the most dramatic events of Christ's life can also be gained on a regular basis by meditating on the seven sacraments, according to Father Mitchell Pacwa, SJ.

A professor at the University of Dallas, Father Pacwa is a Scripture scholar who frequently appears on The Eternal Word Television Network. He gave a four-part series of talks March 8 and 9 on "Living Out the Death and Resurrection of Jesus Christ through the Sacraments" at St. Thomas the Apostle Parish in Irondequoit.

In each presentation, Father Pacwa stressed the scriptural basis for all the sacraments, and continually pointed out how each sacrament echoes events surrounding the death and resurrection of the
