Students and teachers throughout the Rochester diocese celebrated Catholic Schools Week, Feb. 10-14, with such festivities as music, ice cream socials, roller skating, spelling bees and student-staff volleyball games. Counterclockwise, from top left: James McCauley (left), Earl Johnston and Julio Ferrer, eighth-graders at Irondequoit's Northeastern Catholic Junior High School perform Feb. 11 for visitors from the St. Ann's Home and Heart Program. Teacher Marianne Venoski crowns fifth-grader Amanda Lee as "Lady of St. Valentine's Day" of Newark's St. Michael's School Feb. 14, as teacher Sue Rigney presents flowers. And Nakiesha Nunnally tries to tone down the enthusiastic singing of fellow kindergartner Jasmyn Thornton during a program at St. Monica's School, Rochester. The Feb. 10 event program also celebrated Black History Month.
