Camp teaches Korean culture
