

FEATURE

Area kids get acquainted with DeSales High

DeSales High School in Geneva hosted an after-school "sports night" Jan. 18 for students from six nearby elementary schools: St. Francis-St. Stephen, Geneva; St. Mary, Canandaigua; St. Mary, Waterloo; St. Michael, Newark; St. Michael, Penn Yan; and St. Patrick, Seneca Falls. About 270 students came for basketball, cheerleading, poster making and a pizza party. Then they were invited to stay for the DeSales girls' JV and varsity basketball games, followed by ice cream sundaes.

DeSales Cheerleader Grace Lynch (left) teaches cheers to students from St. Francis-St. Stephen's School in Geneva. The elementary students were invited to perform cheers during the varsity basketball game.

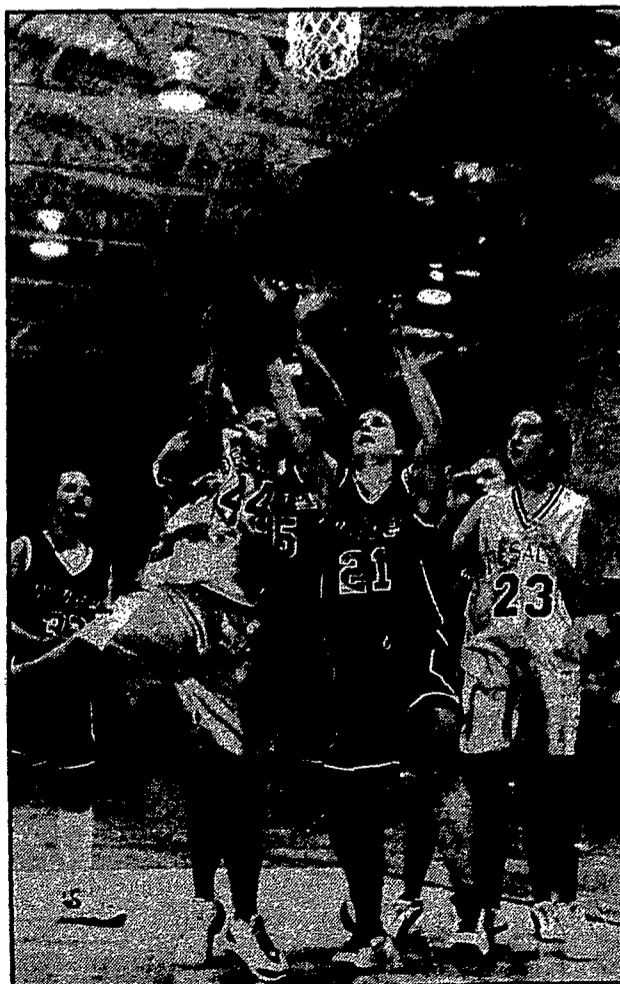

Devon Ferguson and his 10-year-old son, Jacob, a student at St. Michael's, Newark, enjoy pizza before the game.

(From left) St. Patrick's students Phillip LeBrun, 12, Alex Fletcher, 10, and Sam Knipper, 11, play basketball before the JV and varsity games.

St. Francis-St. Stephen students Michael Derosa and Stephie D'Amico, both 7, make posters for the basketball games.

Jenn Sheppard (#44) of DeSales High School and Thea Soule (#21) of Harley-Allendale Columbia fight for the ball during the girls' varsity basketball game.

PHOTOS BY
JAMES STEIN