A reading celebration

BIOGRAPHER SEEKS INFORMATION, ANECDOTES

Father Robert F. McNamara, the diocesan historian and archivist who has also written numerous historical books, will now be the subject of a book.

Ann Maloney, a cousin of Father McNamara's, said she has received permission from the retired priest — who was featured in the June 12 Catholic Courier — to write about his life and times.

Maloney, a parishioner at St. Mary's Church in downtown Rochester, asks that anyone with biographical facts and anecdotes about Father McNamara contact her at amaloney@bluefrog.biz or 585/461-0467.
